

"Absolutely nothing half so much worth while doing as simply messing around in boats."
—Water Rat in "The Wind in the Willows."

*"Such a bright little,
light little,
Slight little, light little,
Trim little, slim little craft."*
—W. S. Gilbert.

"Blessed are the sleepy for they shall noon drop off."
—Nietzsche.

*"Oh, the brave fisher's life,
It is the best of any."*

—Isaiah Walton.

"And beauteous even where beauties most abound."—Byron.
