

Adding Insult to Injury

14oct2025.

This comment was made today on the latest video posted by the excellent Danny Haiphong on his YouTube channel:

@oliviafranzen2959 I'm German. I want Israel to pay reparations to Palestine, I want a Nakba Memorial built in the middle of Tel Aviv and Jerusalem and I want a part of Gaza to remain in ruins with the atrocities documented in pictures and I want EVERY 12 year old Israeli child be made to visit it and be educated on what they have done. That's what the Germans had to do and I want our newly found genocidal brothers in crime to do the same.

Olivia Franzen sums up perfectly everything that is wrong with Donald Trump's current grandstanding with his "peace deal" between Israel and Palestine. If I were guilty of murder and on trial for my crime, and I stood before the court and announced that my killing spree was over and that I was hereby declaring a "cease-murder," and that I promised not to commit any further murders (for the time being), would this be accepted as a defence? Of course not. I would be found guilty and be sentenced to an appropriate punishment.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind that Israel is guilty of such extensive war crimes in Gaza that it can only be called a crime against humanity, not least because the IDF's own troops have documented it all in their social media posts. Least of all is there any such doubt in the minds of Donald Trump and Benjamin Netanyahu. But these two criminals, the perpetrator and the accessory, are so sure of their own power that they think that they can simply pardon themselves and leave it at that. Their basic legal argument? "Whaddaya going to do about it?" Thus they demonstrate not only their deep contempt for international law, but also their covert atheism hidden behind their masks of religiosity. "We can perpetrate what ever crimes we want and then judge ourselves not only innocent but actually righteous," they think, "because there is no higher power than us able to hold us to account. We dispense the pardons, the judgements and the sentences, and we not only have sentenced a hundred thousand plus Palestinians to death and carried out their summary extrajudicial executions, but we also stand here now at the end of it all, and declare ourselves victorious and exempt from all consequences."

This is to add insult to injury on a mind-boggling scale, and is perhaps the greatest display of arrogance the world has ever witnessed. Israel by rights ought to be made to rebuild Gaza, not as a real-estate deal for the Gollum-like Jared Kushner (wringing his hands in avarice muttering "my pressscious land"), but as reparations to the newly established State of Palestine, also including the West Bank from which the 800,000 or so illegal Israeli settlers should be expelled, and all stolen Palestinian homes returned to their rightful owners, as established in 1967. Then and only then would the justice prevail upon which a lasting peace could be established.

But nothing of the sort will happen. And nothing at all like peace will prevail. What will prevail is Israeli dominance, expansion and terror through the profitable use of American weaponry. This current ceasefire (which has already been broken by Israel) was only a way to get the hostages returned, and actually nothing but another tactic in the war that will not end until Eretz Israel is established and Netanyahu has finished paving the way for the destruction of Al Aqsa Mosque and the erection of the third Temple on that site, where he will then sit in a pool of red heifer's blood and await the Messiah. Anyone who thinks otherwise simply does not understand what is going on.

16 oct 2025 update:

Leading critical commentators now concur: Trump's "ceasefire" theatrics were staged for the consumption of the uncritical Zionist idealists of the mainstream media. Israel's onslaught will no doubt soon resume, even intensify, under the duplicitous pretext that it will be not they but Hamas who have broken the ceasefire deal by refusing to unilaterally disarm, submit and walk out of their tunnels in single file like lambs to the slaughter. This is a situation reminiscent of the strategies of the Viet Cong half a century ago, and just as in Vietnam, the US will continue via their proxy state Israel to lash out in frustration and settle instead for massacring civilians if they cannot actually defeat the elusive military whose guerilla tactics have them outmanoeuvred and outwitted. Unable to accept their own failure to win their war with Hamas, Hezbollah and Ansar Allah any more than the Americans were able to win a victory in Vietnam, Trump's "deal" is in fact nothing more than a tactic in the hasbara strategy, designed solely to legitimate the demand that their opponents simply hand over their weapons and submit to Zionist rule – a demand to which Israel knew very well in advance Hamas would never acquiesce (hence Netanyahu's no-show at the peace talks at which this was supposedly agreed). I'm all for disarmament, but it has to be bilateral, and the hope that Israel too would disarm is sadly the height of uncritical idealism, something conceivable only if the USA itself led the way and disarmed first in an act of Christian consistency, an action which would in fact amount to nothing short of the second coming of Jesus himself. So in other words, unable to accept the fact that, despite their overwhelming superiority in weaponry, they have lost their war with Hamas, Israel now proposes the deluded demand that their enemies participate in play-acting the fantasy that the Zionist entity has actually won, a fiction produced and directed for the sake of the mainstream western media to be broadcast on the evening news along with all the other fictional soap-operas.

Some "leading critical commentators":

Mohammad Marandi and Ali Abunimah https://youtu.be/tcWc_aukReU

Owen Jones <https://youtu.be/qJZYiTN81Ho>

Nima Alkhorshid with Matthew Hoh <https://youtu.be/TBFA-R1NR90>

Patrick Henningsen <https://youtu.be/rdjSLrzTqil>

Max Blumenthal <https://youtu.be/FKUkFyXv5-I> <https://youtu.be/MOmJVnwCtEI>

Aaron Maté <https://youtu.be/mco1RLIk1WE>

Mahmood Audah <https://youtu.be/d0FmI4I5e0M>

Michael West <https://youtu.be/-xkWTld-sl4>